

CO-PAY ACCUMULATOR

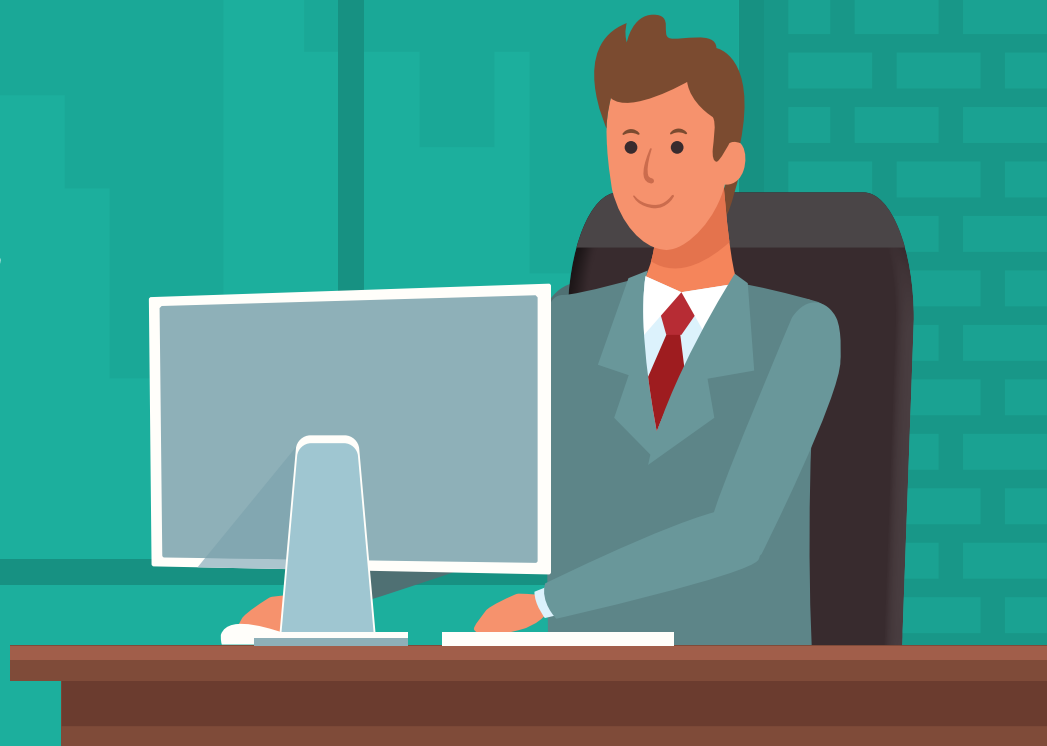

Adjustment Programs

Co-pay cards help patients afford their medication.

They used to help pay down their deductible too.

But Insurers Changed The Rules.

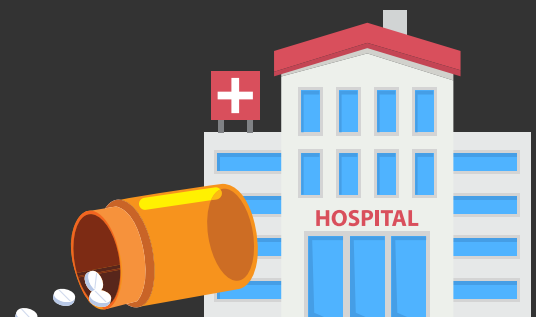

When the co-pay card runs out, Patients Face A Big Out-Of-Pocket Bill.

THAT LEAVES PATIENTS WITH FEW OPTIONS:

Find a way to pay, even if it means abandoning necessities

Forego medication, allowing condition to worsen

Co-pay accumulator adjustment programs are dangerous to cystic fibrosis patients' health.
